ELAN IMPRESSION 494

OPEN SPACE EXPLORER

"The yacht delivers a consistently pleasurable sailing experience, which means fast cruising and easy handling, even when short-handed. We combined our hull design with an optimal rig and sail area, ensuring the yacht is stable and safe in every sea condition, yet with a very high pointing ability without sacrificing downwind performance. Another strong feature includes the twin wheel - twin rudder system, which ensures better control and handling even in extreme conditions, a self-tacking jib system, a through-deck furling genoa and furling gennaker as an option. All sheets run all the way to the steering position, which allows the helmsman to trim the sails himself, using two winches directly in front of the steering wheels."

- An aerial photograph of a sailboat, likely a Beneteau Impression 494, sailing on a deep blue sea. The boat's deck is finished with light-colored teak planking. A large, white, rectangular canvas cover is positioned on the deck, partially obscuring the cockpit area. The boat's white hull contrasts with the dark water. The mast and rigging are visible on the left side of the frame. A semi-transparent dark grey rectangular box is overlaid on the upper right portion of the image, containing text and a list of features.
